General Comments

TELEPHONES

Only two numbers will be kept on file with the Crew Management Center. A third number will only be entertained as a temporary number and only for a short period. Ten minutes will be allowed for an employee to respond to a pager.

A minimum of two (2) calls must be made to all employees. In the event a call is placed to an employee and an answering machine is encountered. The crew dispatcher will leave a message stating the crew office is calling. A minimum of two calls must be made. Upon the second calls, the crew dispatcher must leave a message stating that the employee has missed a call for a specific, time and date.

NOTE: There is no time frame between when the first and second call is made.

In the event that when placing a call to an employee, the responding party indicates that he/she is willing to accept the call on behalf of the called employee, this is permissible. The same calling information and practices are to be conveyed to the answering party that would be given to the employee.

Cellular phones and pagers may be used and practices such as wake up calls, short calls and calls at other locations are entertained. Employees requesting short calls and who fail to respond will have the short call privilege revoked.

SHORT CALLS

At the Home Terminal short calls will be entertained, however, no less than a one hour call will be entertained.

At the Away From Home Terminal short calls will be entertained, however, no less than a 30 minute call will be entertained.

SPAREBOARD – (Fastboard / Slowboard)

A fast and slow board has been established to man all vacancies consistent with Article 56. Spareboard entitlements for yard and road assignments of 100 miles or less in one direction will be manned from the FAST board.

All spareboard entitlements for road assignments over 100 miles in one direction will be manned from the SLOW board.

This board mans all Road and Yard relief and extra train and yard assignments (including service to Flat Rock/Detroit).

Spareboard employees will work up the slow board order until such time as they work a mainline road trip in excess of 100 miles in one direction, or disqualify them for any reason.

When an employee is called for a trip off the slow board, his or his name will come off both boards and will go to the bottom of each board as of the outer switch time of the tour of duty completed.

In the event an employee is first out on both the Fast and Slow boards and a road and yard assignment is ordered for the same on duty time, the employee will have the choice of vacancies.

Joint spareboard is governed by the outer switch in road service and the off duty time in yard service.

As per Article 56, In the event an employee who is first out on either board misses a call his/her name will be removed from both boards for 12 hours from the calling time of the assignment. In the application of this provision the Company is not to be penalized (IE: an employee can be called for other assignments even though they are under penalty).

An employee on Company Business or Union Status will hold his/her turn on the Slow Board but will be removed from the Fast Board for the duration of the off board status. Such employee will be placed at the bottom of the Fast Board at the time he/she books back on.

Spareboard employees are permitted to book between 6 and 24 hours rest after the completion of an assignment in road service, and between 2 and 14 hours rest on completion of a Yard assignment at the Home Terminal.

Spareboard employees having worked in Road Service who book in excess of 16 hours rest will have their names held off both the FAST and SLOW boards until the expiration of the rest booked and will be placed at the bottom of both boards at the expiration time.

The Joint Spareboard is governed by the first in, first out principle.

Spareboard employees are called for Road service 2 hours in advance of the time required to report for duty.

Spareboard employees are called for Yard service 2 hours in advance of the ordering time of the assignment.

Spareboard employee must tie-up on completion of their tour of duty.

Employees displaced from a regular assignment in road service will be afforded 72 hours to declare and if declaring to the Joint spareboard, will take their turn from the time last released from duty prior to being displaced. The same provisions apply in Yard service with a maximum 48 hours to declare. (Article 56.3 Note C).

Employees displaced from temporary vacancies must declare immediately upon notification and if declaring to the Joint spareboard the same provisions with respect to turn will apply. (Article 56.3 Note D).

EO: Employees who elect to book EO and wish to hold their turn will not need to notify the CMC. If an employee wishes to be dropped after EO he/she must notify the CMC as soon as possible after marking off on EO status.

NOTE: When CATS is updated to provide an input field for EO status when EO is complete (hold turn or drop turn) the foregoing paragraph will be null and void with respect to having your turn dropped or held.

PLD: When an employee returns from a PLD he/she will be dropped on both the Fast and Slow board.

PILOTS: All Pilots will be ordered from the Slow Board and will be on duty at the same time as the employee being piloted. See Article 16 for payment Provisions

MILEAGE - Spareboard

Mileage checks on the Spareboard are the 1st, 11th and 21st of each month.

Calculation Factors 10 day check – 1266.66
 11 day check – 1393.32

MILEAGE – Chain Gang – SR Pool

Mileage checks on the Spareboard are the 1st, 11th and 21st of each month.

Calculation Factors 10 day check – 1433.33
 11 day check – 1576.63

When an additional to the Chain Gang is required, the new turns are to be added at 12 Noon on the day of the mileage check.

These additional turns are to be advertised as temporary vacancies for 72 hours.

Update the additional turns in the turnover sheets in CATS in order to maintain the proper sequence of the turns.

PERSONAL MILES

All employees are to count their personal miles on a monthly basis as per their checking date.

The following guideline will be applied for carry over miles:

1. If an employee does not book off for miles when he/she has accumulated 4300 miles, they cannot carry over the excess miles to be added to the next mileage month. New mileage month would start at zero.

Example: Employees date is the 15th of the month.

TCRC-CTY Employee (4300 miles)

On the 10th of the month the employee has worked a total of 4310 miles and decides to work one more trip before going off for miles. On his return he now has 4610 and is still three days ahead of his mileage date. The employee cannot book off for miles at this time as passed on the right to go off for miles when he was at 4310. The employee also cannot apply carry over to the next mileage month as he had the opportunity to go off for miles but passed it up.

2. Carry over miles can only be used if an employee takes a trip and on return from the trip they are over the 4300 and they have now started a new mileage month.

Example:

TCRC-CTY employee has 4250 miles and goes to work 1 day before his mileage date. On the trip he works 300 miles. On his return to the terminal he is into his NEXT mileage month. Total miles at this point would be $4250 + 300 = 4550$. As he is into a new mileage month he cannot book off for miles, therefore, his carry over would be 250 miles.

BOOKING ON/OFF VACATION

Employees booked off for vacation are not required to book back on. The CMC will automatically book the employee on upon expiration of their vacation and they will be considered available as follows:

Regularly assigned: 2201 hours for an ordering time of 0001 hours.

Employees must advise the crew dispatcher that they worked a short turn in order to retain their standing.
